

Wednesday 26th March 2014

Cardiology in travellers and migrants

In the first half of our seminar Prof Dave Moore will be talking about the emerging issue of Chagas disease in Latin American migrants. He will discuss how this might present in migrants and when to consider testing for Chagas disease, highlighting the importance of country of origin and the important issue of antenatal screening in Latin American populations.

The second speaker is Dr Mick Ozkor. He will be discussing cardiovascular risk in our migrant populations and how you can tailor your clinical knowledge to your local patient population.

6.30 – 7.00pm: supper

7.00 – 7.10pm: Introduction

Dr Mike Brown, Consultant in Infectious Diseases, UCLH

7.10 – 7.50pm:

Chagas disease in Latin American migrants

Prof David Moore, Consultant in Tropical Diseases, UCLH

7.50 – 8.00pm:

Break

8.00 – 8.40pm:

Cardiovascular risk in migrants

Dr Mick Ozkor, Consultant Cardiologist, UCLH and North Middlesex Hospital

8.40 – 8.45pm:

Wrap-up / certificates / feedback

PRESENTATIONS WILL BE MADE AVAILABLE ON LINE AT: www.thehtd.org/gplibrary

NEXT EVENT: Thursday 19th June: Antibiotic use and paediatric diseases